We are pleased to have the nationally known clay artist Sumi von Dassow as the juror of the Clay Continuum Exhibition. Sumi is an award-winning ceramic artist who lives in Golden, Colorado. Her love of color and form is expressed in a varied and unique body of work ranging from brightly glazed functional pottery to unglazed burnished work. Sumi teaches pottery at Lakewood's Washington Heights Art Center. She is a columnist and frequent contributor to Pottery Making Illustrated Magazine, and edited the books "Barrel, Pit and Saggar Firing" and "Electric Kiln Pottery" for The American Ceramic Society.
